Martial Law Declared in Several Places and Russia is Fighting for Life.

THE RIOTING BEGINS.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Advices from provincial centers show that the rioting which has been dreaded so long, has actually begun.
At Reval a mob fired a theatre and prevented the firemen from extinguishing the flames until troops were called out.
At Comed three bombs were thrown at the chief of police and he, and two Cossack guards were badly wounded by the explosion.
At Tomsk a mob marched through the streets singing revolutionary songs and demanding the establishment of a communal republic.
Rioting was started and troops charged the crowds. Many were wounded. Strenuous efforts are being made to call out the telegraph operators. This is the only remaining means of communication and may soon be stopped.

TO RECAPTURE KHARKOFF.
London, Oct. 28.—The correspondent of the Evening Standard at St. Petersburg, wires that the military commandant at Kioff has ordered troops to recapture Kharkoff, where a state of war exists.

STRIKERS BLOW UP BRIDGE.
Warsaw, Oct. 28.—Martial law has been declared here. The strikers have blown up the bridge at Mysloff, near the city. The railway tracks were also torn up for a considerable distance.

MAY ATTEMPT PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—News of the gravest importance reached here this afternoon from Moscow. At a meeting of delegates of various political parties it was decided to unite in establishing a government and act independently of the imperial government. This action is construed as an attempt to set up a provisional government.

GERMAN TROOPS NEAR.
London, Oct. 28.—The correspondent of the Evening Standard, at Odessa, wires that an unconfirmed rumor is current there that Germany is moving a hundred thousand troops close to the Russian frontier.

Russia's Plight Terrible.
London, Oct. 28.—Special dispatches to the morning papers depict the situation in Russia in the gloomiest terms. But few of them dare venture the predictions as to the outcome.
According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Mail everything depends on the nature of the new reforms about to be published.
The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Telegraph believes that the Autocracy is dying hard but fast, and ventures to record his conviction that before Monday Russia will have taken her place among the constitutional powers of Europe.

At the same time he is apprehensive that the only man who can be charged with the realization of this program may meet the tragic fate of that of the other Russian who attempted to introduce a constitution, Alexander II.
There is no reliable news of the reported mutiny and incendiaryism in the Russian navy.

Bloodshed is Necessary.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—That the present situation cannot end without bloodshed is the conviction in higher government circles where from moment to moment are expected reports of conflict between the troops and the revolutionists in St. Petersburg and news of the trouble in provinces, especially Kharkoff, which has been declared in state of war.

The governor of Kioff has been instructed to take all necessary measures to restore order which the local government and commander of troops are unable to maintain.
One of the most prominent members of the emperor's council said with every evidence of deep emotion: "The situation is a grievous and painful one and I see no way out of it except by the employment of armed force. It is becoming more and more evident that troops will be compelled to fire. I can see no other possible outcome."
"The revolutionists and terrorists are absolutely bent on forcing the conflict upon us and nothing we can do will satisfy them."
"The extension of suffrage of assembly will be nothing to them. They are determined to have bloodshed, and we cannot avoid the issue. It is a frightful disease from which Russia is suffering and, sad and painful as it is, the government must act with force."

Panic in St. Petersburg.
St. Petersburg, Oct. 28.—Several large mass meetings to invite two gung were not intermissions about twenty

BOSTON MURDER

MAY SOON BE SOLVED—THE LEGS AND ARMS FOUND.

Were in Another Suit Case—Rings On Fingers May Lead to Victim's Identity.

Boston, Oct. 28.—The suit case mystery of Sept. 21, when the dismembered corpse of a woman was found in a dress suit case floating in the harbor was brought into prominence again late yesterday, when a second suit case was found in the Charles river. The case contained the arms and legs, said by medical experts to be those of a woman, and the police say there is no doubt but that they are the missing members of the torso.

With the finding of the limbs, there is now chance that the victim of the tragedy may be identified, as on one of the hands there were three rings.
The pawnbroker who sold the case in which the torso was found today identified the case in which the arms and legs were found as one sold the purchaser of the first case. Oilcloth similar to that found about the torso was also found in the case recovered yesterday.

TIGHTENED HIS TIE AND CUT HIS THROAT

Horrible Deed of a Jealous Girl in Iowa.

While Fondling Her Sweetheart She Pulled Razor and Slashed Throat From Ear to Ear.

A KANSAN CONFESSES MURDER

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 28.—Pretending to adjust his necktie, Miss Myrtle Williams, aged 20 years, cut the throat of Harold Stepp, aged 23, her sweetheart, at Albia.

Stepp had an engagement with the girl on the previous evening. He failed to keep it. Miss Williams accused him of calling on another girl and a jealous lovers' quarrel followed.

The quarrel occurred in the young woman's home. Stepp will die. The gash in his throat extends from ear to ear. Forty-three stitches were taken, but surgeons say he cannot live. Miss Williams is under arrest. After committing the crime she walked to the home of the city marshal and surrendered. She said she was not sorry for the act.

"He thought we had patched up the quarrel," she said, "but I knew he was not to be depended upon. I killed him rather than to be without his love. They can do what they will with me."

Before Stepp became unconscious he told in a few words how the assault was executed. They were seated on a davenport and the girl was fondling his face. After tightening the knot in his necktie she reached for her waist and produced the razor. She drew the blade across his throat before Stepp could move to resist.

Miss Williams is the daughter of a widow. Stepp was a railroad man.

Paff and Nickelson say they boxed with Muldoon in their rooms, but no blows were exchanged. They declare that he was very nervous after the bouts and complained of a headache.

The bride was only 17 and her father came along to give his permission. The law however, required that minors can only secure license in the county where they reside, so they had to go to Pulaski county to get their license.

A TRAIN JUMPED FROM THE BRIDGE

Fell Forty Feet and Not a Passenger Killed.

Miraculous Escape of Many Persons From Instant Death—Several Were Hurt.

THE ENGINEER IS A HERO

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 28.—Passengers on the Louisville Southern train No. 9, due here at 7 o'clock, had a narrow escape last night when the train was hurled from a bridge seven miles from here into a creek forty feet below. Several persons were injured but none were killed. The injured are:

W. L. Herndon, mail clerk, Lancaster, Ky., injured internally and badly crushed.
Joseph Thompson, express messenger and baggagemaster, shoulder broken and head cut; injuries serious.

Prof. M. A. Scovell, Lexington, knee hurt.
Wm. Hutchinson, conductor, Lexington, shoulder broke, back hurt, cut about head.

J. W. Hughes, Lexington, rib broken, arms and body crushed.
Edward Dowling, Louisville, scalp wound, and internally injured.

J. W. Crossfield, Lawrenceburg, ankle twisted, badly bruised.
J. W. Ripy, Lawrenceburg, arms and leg bruised.

James Foster, Salt Lick, body bruised and legs injured.
Thomas D. Johnson, Burgin, ankle sprained and neck twisted.

W. D. Donaldson, Eminence, slightly injured.
R. W. Vaughan, Lexington, back hurt.

With one exception all of the passengers were slightly injured and badly shaken up. The tender, mail and baggage cars and smoker were splintered and thrown into the creek and the bridge destroyed entirely.

A more serious accident was probably averted by the presence of mind of the engineer, A. Phillips, who escaped injury. The tender of the engine jumped the track about 100 yards from the bridge, and realizing that if the engine plunged the whole train would be dragged after it, he threw the throttle wide open and barely succeeded in getting the engine across the bridge when the sides of the bridge were battered down by the plunging cars. The mail was saved, but all the baggage was destroyed or damaged by water.

Interurban Meeting Held Here.

A meeting is being held this afternoon in the office of Dr. C. E. Whitesides by the promoters of the interurban road that is proposed to be constructed from here to Cairo. Freundlich, of this city, are also interested in the project. Mr. Freundlich has just returned from New York, where he has been to secure the capital for the road and says he has been successful but there are some matters to be arranged before he bonds can be floated.

A MISHAP AT 'POSSUM HUNT

Cincinnati, Oct. 28.—An elevator in the Globe Tailoring establishment on West Third street fell seven floors to the sub basement this morning, and four employees were probably fatally injured, at one seriously. The three most seriously injured are young women, each of whom had both legs broken.

A later report states that Mrs. Anna Watts died at the city hospital from her injuries and two other victims are dying.

Two Perish in Fire.

Aurora, Neb., Oct. 28.—At the risk of his life Rudolph Jacobson forced his way through a solid wall of flame this morning and lowered his two younger brothers to safety, while his mother and baby sister perished. His Life for a 'Possum.

Alamo, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Failing to find a 'possum by lantern light thrown into a tree by means of reflectors Hamlet Powell, son of Judge Powell of this county, climbed to the top of the tree near here early and in the light that followed the young man fell to the ground, sustaining injuries which caused his death. Powell's dogs had "treed" the 'possum, but the "varmint" secreted itself in the neck of a limb. Powell and the 'possum fell to the ground locked in a deadly embrace and the dogs made several lacerations in the unfortunate hunter's face in the scramble after the 'possum.

Trouble in Bunches.

Findlay, O., Oct. 28.—James Rathburn, a traction employe in this city, was at the top of a twenty-five foot pole, strapped to the pole by a belt. As he completed cutting the wires the pole broke beneath him, and he was precipitated to the ground with fearful force. He can not survive.

All sorts of trouble seems to have happened to him and his family within the past year. His own mother and his wife's mother have died, a little daughter came near dying from diphtheria and a niece was scalded to death.

Knife Causes Bad Mishap.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 28.—An open pocket knife caused a bad accident at the street railway company's Cedar avenue power house, and tied up the East End lines for half an hour.

Evan Williams, an electrician, was burned about the face, hands and arms, and probably will be disfigured for life.

Williams was working around one of the big dynamos. He had been using his knife and neglected to close it when he returned it to his pocket. The current in a flash of flame leaped from the dynamo to the knife. Williams was shocked into helplessness and badly burned.

beautiful woman with a wonderfully charming personality and most de-most talented actresses on the stage

"The Forbidden Land." The Tibetan comic opera, which is announced for presentation at The Kentucky theatre on Tuesday night has a musical score which contains probably more song hits than any similar entertainment offered here in recent years. Prominent among them are:

"The Tramps Chorus;" "Little Lhassa Ladies;" "Love at First Sight;"
"I See My Picture in Your Eyes;"
"Three Maids and a Man;" "Oh Pity
Me;" and "My Brother Beats the Big

Bass Drum." There is a distinction, as well as a difference, between musical comedy and comic opera. The former has in recent years deteriorated into what is but little better than a vaudeville entertainment, with specialties connected by horsplay to indifferent and often vulgar and cheap burlesque. Comic opera is dignified. It requires a plot, well defined characters and capable artists, as well as a musical score of solidity and musicianly execution. In

Barlow Minstrels at The Kentucky tonight.

"The Forbidden Land," which is a comic opera, Guy F. Steely, the author of the book, has disclosed a fund of humor and a genuine power of inventive creation. It is an excellent piece of work. The musical score by Frederic Chapin is meritorious and is presented with a reasonable regard for comic opera requirements. The chorus is large, capable and pretty. The cast is headed by Edward Garvie and includes Charles A. Morgan, W. H. Clarke, Thos. Cameron, Hughie Flaherty, H. S. Austin, Abbot Adams, Alma Youlin, Grace
McCarthy and Mabel Laffin.

SLEEP BAD?

'Tis a bad sign. A sign that disease of some important organ or function has seriously affected your nervous system, and that immediate treatment is necessary to prevent your becoming a physical and mental wreck. If you are a woman, the cause of your trouble probably lies in those delicate organs and functions peculiar to your sex, the disorder of which causes nine-tenths of women's ills. Some symptoms of such trouble are Sick Headache, Backache, Colic and Menstrual Pains, Bearing-down Misery, Weakness, Nervousness, Scanty or too Profuse Discharge, and Sleeplessness. If you suffer from these or other symptoms, bear in mind that there is one pure, harmless, medicinal, vegetable essence, which, for over 70 years, has held pre-eminent place amongst all women, for curing the diseases of their sex.
When you suffer, you cannot go wrong if you will follow their successful example and take

Mme. Nordica to Wed.
New York, Oct. 28.—Mme. Nordica will shortly become the bride of Capt. Joseph Raphael, De La Mar.
Capt. De La Mar is hurrying to completion the great mansion in this city, which was begun as a gift to the former Mrs. De La Mar, whose beauty was such as to win the tribute of Paris as well as New York, and it is to this palace, that he is expected to escort his bride, Capt.

De La Mar was divorced from his former wife several years ago, and she is now married to James R. Hat-maker.

A strong friendship has existed between Capt. De La Mar and Nordica for several years, but the first intimation of their engagement was received last week, when Nordica resigned the part of the rejected bride in Goldmark's Queen of Sheba, which will open the season of grand opera in this city on November 20.

Mme. Nordica was divorced from her second husband, Zoltan Boehme, in January, 1904.

IS BETTER.

Hosea Albritton Not Dangerously
Hurt at Pryorsburg.

A report that Hosea Albritton, who was shot at Pryorsburg, Graves county, by Sam Bradley, a few days ago, was dead, was a mistake. A telephone message from Pryorsburg today stated that Albritton's wound was only a flesh one, in the stomach, and not considered serious.

It seems from eye witnesses that Albritton and Bradley had not on good terms. While a crowd was playing throwing boxes at one another, Albritton threw at another man and struck Bradley in the back. Bradley is alleged to have turned, pulled his pistol and shot, exclaiming "take that." He had not been arrested at last accounts.

COLD CREAM

Is absorbed almost instantly by the skin and loosens up the dirt and foreign matter which fills up the pores of the skin, producing blackheads and eventually troublesome pimples. The astringent properties of the alkali in most soaps has a tendency to draw the skin and close up the pores, thus instead of filling its office as a cleansing agent it interferes with nature's process of throwing off the impurities from the body.

The Week In Society.

SUMMER'S REMEMBRANCE.

How softly summer sped!
Between the dusk and dawn she slipped away,
Leaving her lighted torches, gold
and red,
Her last farewell to say.

The meadow's urn she filled,
And trimmed the forest's lamps of leaves, to be Ready for Autumn's welcome when she willed
Earth's loveliness to see.

The garden's hearthstone shows
Where she found fragrant dream and dear desire;
For here are heaped the ashes of the rose
That was her scented fire.

But she did not forget
Her sister Autumn, who should later come;
For sweet remembrance, on the hearth she set
The first chrysanthemum.

Social Review and Pre-View.

Society has had a varied assortment of gaiety to choose from this week and has run the gamut from the most formal to the most informal with ease and rapidity. Weddings and receptions, card parties, theater parties, luncheons, clubs and the circus have all contributed their quota to swell the round of pleasure and each has been followed with avidity. A number of the visitors in the city are former Paducahans with a legion of friends and this has caused a round of informal affairs, or "gatherings" pure and simple, more than are chronicled.

For the coming week there are several parties already announced and Halloween will hold an especial court and exact the usual tax of pleasure.

Crescendo Club Hallow E'en Party.

The Crescendo club met yesterday afternoon with Miss Virginia Newell and organized for the winter. Miss Caroline Ham was made president; Miss Mary Louise Roberts, secretary, and Miss Ella Wilhelm, recorder. The formal opening of the club will be on Tuesday evening when Miss Virginia Newell will entertain with a Hallow e'en party at her home on North Seventh street. It will be a very attractive affair and the Hallow e'en decorations will be in evidence. All the music will be in unison with the spirit of the occasion, such as "Ghost March," etc. Mr. W. C. Schofield and Mr. Edward Seely will render vocal numbers. In the evening party will be two phantoms, one witch and the ushers will be two gypsies. Each member will be allowed to invite two guests. Ticket numbers about twenty.

Concert For Paducah's Silver Service

The concert to be given November 9th, at the Kentucky theatre for the silver service to the gunboat Paducah, will be a most notable event. It is under the auspices of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the ladies expect the hearty co-operation of every member of the Commercial club and the city at large. It is something in which all Paducah is interested and should touch our civic pride to the extent of making it a "S. T. R. O." night at the Kentucky.

Prof. Harry Gilbert has the direction of the concert which is equivalent to announcing it a success in point of make-up in advance. He will be assisted by the orchestras and bands of the city and the most notable local talent.

Mrs. McKinney and Paducah Honored.

At the state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Bowling Green this week, Mrs. Roy H. McKinney, of Paducah, was elected state president to succeed Mrs. Basil Duke, of Louisville. The honor has never come to so young a woman before, which makes it all the more a high compliment. Mrs. McKinney is the daughter of the late Dr. Alexander Faris, of Hickman, Ky., a brave Confederate soldier, and is at the head of the Alexander Faris chapter Children of the Confederacy of this city. She is greatly interested in the cause and will fill the place with ability and tact.

Paducah was further complimented by the election of Mrs. D. G. Murrell, of the Paducah chapter, as corresponding secretary. This place has been cited by Mrs. Sallie Marshall Hardy, of Louisville, the newspaper woman, and is quite a responsible one to which Mrs. Murrell will be quite equal with her gifted and versatile pen. The Paducah delegates certainly made a decidedly fine impression on the convention, and the town has a right to be proud of such a recognition from the state-at-large.

Series of Card Parties.

Mrs. Mary McQuot Watson, Mrs. David M. Flournoy, Mrs. Carrie Ellis and Miss Mary Flournoy gave a series of card parties on Thursday and Friday afternoon at the Flournoy home on North Seventh street. The house was attractive with flowers and plants and the occasions were most delightful.

On Thursday afternoon there were thirteen tables and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech won the first prize, Mrs. J. L. Hicks, of Macon, Ga., captured the second prize. The out-of-town guest prize was won by Mrs. W. B. Pace, of Louisville, and Miss Boileuillett, of Macon, carried off the booby prize.

A pretty two-course luncheon was served.

There were sixty guests present on Friday afternoon. The first prize was captured by Mrs. Harry McElwee and Mrs. C. M. Budd won the second prize. The visitor's prize went to Mrs. Frank Murray. Mrs. W. A. Berry took the booby prize. A delightful luncheon followed the game.

To Marry Nov. 1.

The coming marriage of Mr. Lindsay Locke to Miss Pearl Miller, prominent residents of the South Side, was summoned today, and cards will be out shortly.

The wedding will take place on November 1 at the residence of the bride, on the Pool road in Littleville. The bride is a daughter of 25 and Mrs. T. G. Miller and is an attractive and accomplished young woman.

Mr. Locke is a young blacksmith employed in the local I. C. shops, and both persons have many friends here who will be pleasantly surprised to learn of the approaching wedding. After the marriage the couple will go to Clinton, Ky., to visit relatives of the groom. They will go to housekeeping on their return to the city.

Magazine Club.

Mrs. Robert Becker Phillips was hostess to the Magazine club on Thursday afternoon at her attractive country home, Woodlawn. It was a delightful meeting of the club with a large attendance of the members.

HEART TROUBLE

The heart itself has no power—no self-control. It is made to beat by a tender nerve so tiny that it is scarcely visible to the naked eye. Yet ten thousand times a day this delicate nerve must assist the heart to expand and contract.

This nerve is only one of the branches of the great sympathetic, or INSIDE, nerve system. Each branch of this system is so closely allied with the others that weakness or irregularity at any point is apt to spread. Heart trouble frequently arises from stomach trouble through sympathy, and kidney trouble may also follow. For each of these organs is operated by a branch of the same sympathetic nerves—the INSIDE NERVES. In Heart, Kidney or Stomach troubles it is of but little use to attempt to doctor the organ itself—the most permanent relief lies in restoring the INSIDE NERVES. Dr. Shoop regards these nerves to be the real cause of such troubles. The remedy—known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative—is the result of years of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ to deaden the pain—but it aims to go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up and strengthens it and makes it well. Every heart sufferer may have Dr. Shoop's book on the Heart. It will be sent free, and with it you will receive the "Health Token," an intended passport to good health.

For the free book and the "Health Token" you must address Dr. Shoop, Box 3171, Racine, Wis. State which book you want.

bers and some outside guests. Response was made to the roll call with quotations from the writings of F. Hopkinson Smith and Mrs. Hal Corbett gave a clever sketch of his life. Mrs. Henry Overby discussed "Shakespeare and Italy" from the Bookman. Miss Minnie Ratcliffe reported from the Cosmopolitan and Miss Kathleen Whitefield from Everybody's Magazine. Miss Frances Gould gave some fascinating experiences of her summer abroad with an especial description of the "Blue Grotto of Mt. Vesuvius." Miss Alice Compton described very delightfully a "Horse Show" that she saw abroad. A short business session was held to complete the arrangements for joining the Woman's Federation of Clubs. To meet this and the publication of the Year-Book and all incidental expenses fifty cents a year will be paid by each member hereafter.

A pretty course-luncheon was served by the hostess in conclusion.

Enjoyable Occasion.

The Lutheran Social club pleasantly surprised Mrs. John Birth on Monday evening at her home on South Third street in honor of her birthday. Refreshments were served and the evening was an enjoyable one. Those present were: Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Ilten, Mr. and Mrs. F. Hummel, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kamleiter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishon, Misses Sophia Hummel, Dora Hummel, Anna Berger, Frank Dunbar, Louise Maurer, Kate Backer, Sophia Baker, Louise Baker, Ida Neiman, Louise Rottgering, Theresa Hummel; Messrs. William Rottgering, George Beyer, Gus Legeay, Alex Mitchell, Charles Wanner, Gus Weisman, Otto Gross.

Attractive Luncheon to Visitors.

Mrs. C. M. Budd entertained with a red luncheon at 1 o'clock on Monday at her home on Broadway in honor of her sister, Mrs. L. L. Applegate, of Cincinnati. The color-motif was effectively emphasized in the decorations and the menu was very delightful and elaborate. The guests were:

Mrs. L. L. Applegate, of Cincinnati; Mrs. J. S. Hicks, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. Oscar L. Gregory, Mrs. Thomas C. Leach, Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. Victor Voris, Miss Elizabeth Boileuillett, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Claire Boileuillett, of Macon, Ga.; Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, Miss Emma Reed, Miss Martha Leach, Miss Manie Cobb, Miss Jessie Nash.

Complimentary Box Parties.

Mrs. Joseph L. Friedman gave a box party on Wednesday afternoon at the Kentucky theatre to witness "The Fortune Teller." It was complimentary to Mrs. J. S. Hicks and the Misses Boileuillett, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. W. B. Pace, of Louisville; Mrs. Oscar Gregory and Mrs. Muscoe Bufnett.

Mrs. Friedman was, also, hostess at a box party at the evening performance of "The Fortune Teller," that included Mrs. Houston Falls, of Nashville, Tenn.; Miss Anna Parks, of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. J. S. Bleeker and Mr. E. R. Adams.

Box Party for Parsifal.

Mr. Charles Reed was the host of a box party on Monday evening at the Kentucky theatre to witness Parsifal. In the party were:

Warneken, of Clarksville, Tenn.; Mrs. Anne Berryman, of Clarksville, Tenn.; Mrs. Baxter Pace, of Louisville; Miss Emma Reed, Miss Carrie Rieke, Miss Charibel Rieke, Mr. Edmund P. Noble.

Entertained Visiting Eagles.

Messrs. Louis P. Head, Robert Patterson and Capt. Gordon, of the local Eagles, last night entertained a number of visiting Eagles at Hotel Lagomarsino. The guests were: L. C. Van Tress, Charles Collins, Arthur Sampson, Fay Trowbridge, F. M. Minch, Joe Dunleavy, Dolph Mayer and Ernest Van Sickles. The guests are all members of the Barlow minstrels, which arrived yesterday. After songs and stories a banquet was served.

Pleasant Recital.

A very enjoyable affair was the recital given in the lecture room of the Broadway Methodist church last night by Mrs. George C. Parker. Mrs. Parker was formerly Miss Martha Green, of this city, and her recognized talent and charm drew a large audience last evening. It was under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Societies of the Broadway Methodist church.

Kentucky Girls Wins Recognition.

Recognizing the excellence of her voice, the officials of the Grace Episcopal church at Dallas, Tex., have engaged Miss Cameron Boone to sing each Sunday. Miss Boone is known well in Paducah where she has often visited.

We are never so ridiculous by the qualities we have as by those we affect to have.—Rochefoucauld.

MONEY IN POLITICAL CANVASSES.

According to Hon. William E. Chandler, the raising of large campaign funds is a recent development, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat. The ex-senator was secretary of the Republican national committee in 1868 and 1872, and served on the executive section of the committee in 1876 and 1880. He declares that no subscriptions in any of those years were asked or received from banks, insurance companies or other corporations. In none of those campaigns did the Republican national campaign fund exceed $200,000. He says that, so far as he can make out, that condition of things stuck through the campaigns of 1884, 1888 and 1892. The period of large campaign contributions and expenditures, he intimates, began with 1896. Possibly Mr. Chandler is correct, but it is not of much consequence. A great deal of money is needed in tional campaigns these days for legitimate work. Both parties get all the money they can. It costs something to support a headquarters staff, to hire rooms for them, to keep up branch headquarters and to support a big corps of spellbinders in the field. The masses of campaign literature, which are sent out represent a heavy expenditure. This big drain from many sources has to be met by somebody. Wealthy members of each of the parties contribute to the campaign fund of their respective parties. They have always done so. They will always do so.

The reason why a larger campaign chest was contributed in 1896 than in previous campaigns was that a larger issue was at the front. A greater issue was before the people in 1896 than in any canvass since 1860 and 1864. As the country was bigger in population in 1896 than it was in the crisis of a century earlier, and as its wealth and business were several times as great, more was at stake. It was natural that more money should flow into the strong box of Mr. Hanna's committee than his predecessors handled. There is no evidence, however, that any of this money was used for corrupt purposes. The drain for legitimate uses was heavy in 1896, as it was in 1900 and 1904. There is no good reason to suppose that any vote buying was done in any of those years.

Remember the proposed constitutional amendment and vote "no." To go back to the old way of voting will divest the voter of his freedom. It will subject the merchant to the danger of having his business ruined, the wage earner to the danger of losing his job, and the average free American citizen to the danger of parting from his self respect. Whether it be right or wrong, it is nevertheless a fact that thousands of men cannot always afford to have it known how they vote. To adopt this constitutional amendment would mean that they must vote so anyone may see how they vote, or vote contrary to their wishes and convictions. It will mean a return to the old methods when men went about on election day with a bag of money and a jug of whiskey, and bribed a man to vote a certain way—and could stay right there and see him do it. Many in Paducah remember those disgraceful times, when hundreds of human derelicts were escorted to the polls and paid to vote for men as corrupt and shameless as were this class of voters themselves. Do the people of Kentucky want to return to those conditions?

The re-election of District Attorney Jerome in New York will be a triumph for good government, if it can be obtained. Jerome has incurred the hatred of the grafters, and they can never rest easy until he is out of office. The Republicans have endorsed him and will support Jerome to prevent the iniquitous Tammany tightening its hold on the public's throat.

President Roosevelt says he never makes a bluff that he can't make good—and he means it. In reference to the Panama canal, he means that the United States will build it. If any man doubts it, let him consider a moment that Theodore Roosevelt wants the canal built and that every step taken indicates that it will be built.

Cities that are drifting into corrupt rule through the indifference of the people should take warning from Louisville. There is probably no city anywhere that can boast of such a variety of political rascals, and it seems impossible to get rid of them. They cling like leeches and barnacles but they fight like fiends.

Well, the city has lost another lawsuit. $150 for the taxpayers to pay because a city employee was hurt on a snow plow! We still believe, however, that some day the city will win a lawsuit—but not under the present administration.

The Louisville machine is so powerful that its allies fraudulently register voters and when caught up with prove that the other fellows did it.

This is a kind of "higher finance" politics.

Republicans who were ill or absent on the regular and supplemental registration days should register at the county clerk's office Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 30, 31, and Nov. 1, are supplemental registration days. Republicans who were absent from the city or sick on the regular registration day, or were prevented from registering by sickness in their families, may secure a certificate by applying on one of these days at the county clerk's office.

NOT EXCITED

WAS THE PRESIDENT OVER THE ACCIDENT TO HIS VESSEL.

Dressed and Was Transferred to Another Boat—Confusion of Signals Caused Accident.

U. S. Flagship West Virginia, Oct. 28.—A confusion of signals seems to have caused the collision between the fruit steamer Esparta and the light-house tender Magnolia night before last. The Magnolia was conveying the president, Secretary Loeb and Dr. Rixey to the cruiser West Virginia. The rail and port bow of the Magnolia were damaged and two or three holes made in the hull below water line.

No one was hurt. The Magnolia immediately on being struck was beached, her bow being high and dry. After a careful examination of the damage to the vessel it was evident that there was no danger and the president and his party went to bed. Maj. Craighead of the United States engineers was aboard the Magnolia, his ship, the Ivy, a sister ship of the Magnolia, had preceded the Magnolia and was some distance ahead. It is presumed that the Ivy was ahead of the Magnolia, and did not learn of the accident until she was intercepted at Pilotown and ordered to return for the president.

Narin is on the right or west bank of the river, and is in a bend. It is presumed that both boats were running close to the shore. As the Magnolia was struck on the port side, it is the theory that she was near enough to the shore to be immediately pushed aground.

The lighthouse tender Ivy returned, after putting President Roosevelt on board, and stopped at Pilotown. Those on board reported that the West Virginia had sailed at 10:05. They said that the president was in excellent spirits and unshaken by the accident.

At the time of the accident, at 11 o'clock the president, absolutely worn out by his strenuous experience in New Orleans, was fast asleep. He had turned in shortly after the vessel left New Orleans. The two ships were near the west shore when they came in contact, in an effort to avoid turning into each other.

The prow of the Esparta struck the Magnolia on the port bow. It was not known to what extent the Magnolia might have been injured, and there was great haste in pushing her ashore. Both vessels grounded, but the Esparta got off under her own steam, and was found not to have suffered any damage.

The president showed no excitement when informed of the extent of the disaster, although he was somewhat annoyed by the probability of a delay, because it was evident that the Magnolia could not proceed on the way. He dressed immediately, and those of his party made arrangements for his transfer to the Ivy, which was intercepted and brought back to the scene of the accident. Except for the loss of some sleep, the president showed no signs of the ordeal.

Will Open Nov. 1st.

A shooting gallery at 302 Broadway, next door to First National bank. Will give prizes for the best marksmanship.

THE WEEK'S NEWS IN THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

BUSINESS LEAD.
 Clearings for week, $648,472
 Same week last year 571,444
 Increase, $75,028
 Business is reported more active than for some time, both wholesale and retail. Tobacco is moving and many of the farmers, who have been busy for several months, are now able to come to the city and make their fall purchases.

River traffic is also opening up, which will be quite a help to the business interests of the city. From now on there is no doubt but that all branches of business will revive and pick up rapidly.

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, Oct. 28.—Bradstreet's report says: Active, in fact buoyancy, still characterizes practically all lines of trade and industry. Cooler weather is stimulus to retail trade in all but few small and relatively unimportant sections of the country.

Reordered business reflects this in a steady call from jobbers for dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats—in fact all lines of wearing apparel, holiday trade in many lines also shows the effects of early buying.

Long awaited materializing of European demand for our bread stuffs is apparently now at hand. Business in this line, it is claimed, is now limited only by vessel room capacity. Higher prices for nearly all farm products have helped the demand in the agricultural districts, and to certain extent improved collections.

Industry retains the lively appearance noted for sometime past. Taken as a whole, the situation is one which finds no precedents for this season of the year, and stress is being laid upon the need of conservatism of runaway markets are to be avoided.

Bank Clearings.

New York, Oct. 28.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet for the past week: $2,888,312,043, an increase of 3.7 per cent., as compared with the corresponding week last year.

The Mayfield Railroad.

A telephone message from General Manager Delano, of Wickliffe, is to the effect that the contract for grading the section of the road near Blandville has been let to Polivick & Co., local contractors, and that work will begin today and be pushed as rapidly as possible. Fire Insurance Agents' New Rule.

The local fire insurance agents have met and organized for the purpose of hereafter conducting a cash business. They claim that many people and firms have been taking out insurance and letting it run for a few months before paying the premium, while others, after holding the policy a while would return it and the agent would have the premium to pay, at the same time the policy holder had full protection and did not pay a cent. In the future the first premium will have to be paid within thirty days.

Officers have been elected as follows: President, Mr. Edward Ashbrook vice-presidents, Mr. William Hammel and Mr. Charles Jennings; treasurer, Mr. Robert Reeves; secretary, Mr. S. T. The final step has been taken to consummate a big deal in Kentucky coal lands. Papers of incorporation were taken out, under the state laws of Delaware, for a company capitalized at $2,500,000 by John Tevis, of Louisville, forming the Southern Tidewater Coal company. The company has secured possession of 6,000 acres of coal lands in and surrounding Uniontown Ky. The property in question was part of the estate of the late Judge W. P. D. ATTORNEY THINKS
CASES ARE NOW WON

Receives Federal Court Decision
in a Peonage Case.

Solicitor Campbell Believes That It Means Victory in Chaingang Suits.

EXPECTS THEM TO BE DISMISSED

City Solicitor James Campbell has received a letter from James H. McKenney, clerk of the supreme court of the United States, which it is claimed virtually decides the chaingang suits filed against the city.

An application for a habeas corpus writ was applied for in the district court of Georgia and Judge Spear granted it. The case was taken to the supreme court on a writ of error and the writ was dismissed, under the authority of the decision "State of Minnesota vs. C. N. Brimbridge," 180th U. S., page 639, in which it was held that a party must use all possible recourse through the state courts before he has a right to go to the U. S. courts on such a question. The question of true merits and peonage were not passed on. The act of the U. S. court in refusing to grant the district court this writ, reversed Judge Spear, the U. S. supreme court stating that the district court did not have jurisdiction.

Solicitor Campbell stated that the cases filed by Attorney Worton in the federal court here were cases that had not been passed on in the state court, hence are subject to this late ruling as he has not exhausted all recourse in the state courts. Attorney Worton lost one case in the circuit court on a demurrer. He appealed to the court of appeals and the decision there was against him. It was held there that ordinance working prisoners on the streets was valid and didn't interfere with state or federal rights, but this decision has nothing to do with what federal court might think about it.

Solicitor Campbell, however, expects that Judge Evans will throw the cases out of court next month on this late decision of the supreme court, which will be a victory for the city of Paducah.

Attorney J. M. Worton, who filed the suits now pending in federal court, said that he has not seen the federal decision, and does not know what it holds, or whether it settled the question involved in his suits or not.

LIQUID VENEER
MAKES OLD THINGS NEW

Liquid Veneer is a wonder! It will make the whole interior of your house shine like new, making re-finishing or re-varnishing entirely unnecessary. It is not a varnish, but a surface food and cleaner, building up the original finish and making it brighter than ever. It is applied with a piece of cheese cloth and no experience is necessary. No drying to wait for. Removes all scratches, stains, dirt, dullness. It can be applied to any finish with beneficial results. Natural wood, as well as any color of paint, will be better for an application of Liquid Veneer.

Liquid Veneer will improve even the most beautiful furniture. It will take that smoky look from the Piano and other Mahogany, and is highly beneficial to Golden Oak, White Mahogany, and other finishes. Liquid Veneer sells at 50 cents a bottle, and a bottle is enough to renovate the ordinary home. Try it and you will always buy it.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors and they told me one of my lungs was badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well."

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity.

The WILSON HEATER with the celebrated Hot Blast Down-Draft is the only heater which actually burns all of the fuel put into it. The Hot Blast Down-Draft creates perfect combustion and the fumes which rise from the fuel, ordinarily escaping unburned in other stoves, are all consumed and turned into heat in the Wilson. It has been ascertained that the fumes which arise from the fuel constitutes 40 per cent of the entire heating power of the fuel. Buy a Wilson and get all the heat you are paying for.

Brewster's Millions

Copyright, 1904, by Herbert S. Stone & Company
By GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON
(RICHARD GREAVES)

CHAPTER II.

MONTGOMERY BREWSTER no longer had "prospects." People could not now point him out with the remark that some day he would come into a million or two. He had "realized," as Oliver Harrison would have put it. Two days after his grandfather's funeral a final will and testament was read, and, as was expected, the old banker named for the hardships Robert Brewster and his wife had endured by bequeathing $1,000,000 to their son Montgomery. It was his without a restriction, without an admonition, without an incubance. There was not a suggestion as to how it should be handled by the heirs. The business training the old man had given him, was synonymous with conditions not expressed in the will. The dead man believed that he had drilled into the youth an unmistakable conception of what was expected of him in life. If he failed in these expectations, the misfortune would be his alone to bear. A road had been carved out for him, and behind him stretched a long line of guideposts whose laconic instructions might be ignored, but never forgotten. Edwin Peter Brewster evidently made his will with the sensible conviction that it was necessary for him to die before anybody else could possess his money and that once dead it would be folly for him to worry over the way in which beneficiaries might choose to manage their own affairs.

The house in Fifth avenue went to a sister, together with a million or two, and the residue of the estate found kindly disposed relatives who were willing to keep it from going to the Home For Friendless Fortunes. Old Mr. Brewster left his affairs in order. The will nominated Jerome Biskirk as executor, and he was instructed, in conclusion, to turn over to Montgomery Brewster the day after the will was probated securities to the amount of $1,000,000, provided for in clause 4 of the instrument. And so it was that on the 26th of September young Mr. Brewster had an unconditional fortune thrust upon him, weighted only with the suggestion of care that clung to it. Since his grandfather's death he had been staying at the gloomy old Brewster house in Fifth avenue, paying but two or three hundred visits to the room at Mrs. Gray's where he had made his home. The gloom of death still darkened the Fifth avenue place, and there was a stiffness, a gentle staidness about the house that made him long for more cheerful companionship. He wandered dully if a fortune always carried the suggestion of tuberculosis. The richness and strangeness of it all hung about him unpleasantly. He had had no extravagant affection for the grim old dictator who was dead, yet his grandfather was a man and he commanded his respect. It seemed brutal to leave him out of the reckoning—to dance on the grave of the mentor who had treated him so well. The attitude of the friends who clapped him on the back, of the newspapers which congratulated him, of the crowd that expected him to rejoice, repelled him. It seemed a tragic comedy, haunted too, by memories and by sharp regret for his own foolish thoughtlessness. Even the fortune itself weighed upon him at moments with a half defined melancholy.

Yet the situation was not without its compensations. For several days when Ellis called him at 7 he would answer him and thank fortune that he was not required at the bank that morning. The luxury of another hour of sleep seemed the greatest perk of wealth. His morning mail amused him at first, for since the newspapers had published his prosperity to the world he was deluged with letters. Requests for public or private charity were abundant, but most of his correspondents were generous and thought only of his own good.

For three days he was in a hopeless state of bewilderment. He was visited by reporters, photographers and ingenious strangers, who benevolently offered to invest his money in enterprises with certified futures. When he was not engaged in declining a gold mine in Colorado, worth $5,000,000 marked down to $450, he was avoiding a guileless inventor who offered to sacrifice the secrets of a marvelous device for $300 or denying the report that he had been tendered the presidency of the First National bank.

Oliver Harrison stirred him out early one morning and, while the sleepy millionaire was rubbing his eyes and still dodging the bombshell that a dream anarchist had hurled from the pinnacle of a bedpost, urged him in excited confidential tones to take time by the forelock and prepare for possible breach of promise suits. Brewster sat on the edge of the bed and listened to diabolical stories of how conscienceless females had fleeced innocent and ever godly men of wealth. From the bath room between splashes he retained Harrison by the year, month, day and hour to stand between him and black mail.

The directors of the bank met and adopted resolutions lamenting the death of their late president, passed the leadership on to the first vice president and speedily adjourned. The question of admitting Monty to the directors was brought up and discussed, but it was left for time to settle.

One of the directors was Colonel Prentiss Drew. "The railroad magnate" of the newspapers. He had shown a fondness for young Mr. Brewster, and Monty had been a frequent visitor at his house. Colonel Drew called him "a bully old chap," though not in his presence. But the existence of Miss Barbara Drew may have had something to do with the feeling between the two men.

As he left the directors' room on the afternoon of the meeting Colonel Drew came up to Monty, who had notified the officers of the bank that he was leaving.

"Ah, my dear boy," said the colonel, shaking the young man's hand warmly, "now you have a chance to show what you can do. You have a fortune, and with judgment, you ought to be able to triple it. If I can help you in any way, come and see me."

Monty thanked him. "You'll be bored to death by the raft of people who have ways to spend your money," continued the colonel. "Don't listen to any of them. Take your time. You'll have a new chance to make money every day of your life, so go slowly. I'd have been rich years and years ago if I'd had sense enough to run away from promoters. They'll all try to get a whack at your money. Keep your eye open, Monty. The rich young man is always a tempting morsel." After a moment's reflection he added, "Won't you come out and dine with us tomorrow night?"

MORE RUMORS

I. C. BRIDGE AT HENDERSON TO SPAN TOWHEAD.

Nothing Official Given Out, But Many Believe Bridge Will Be Built.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 28.—There are some new developments in connection with the proposed new railroad bridge across the Ohio river to be constructed by the Illinois Central. It is understood that the new bridge will be built across the river at Towhead Island, which is in a close proximity of the I. C. incline. It is said that one of the main piers will rest on the island. By using the island as a foundation for one of the piers the bridge could be built at a greatly reduced expense. No caissons would have to be sunk and there would be a necessity for only one channel span.

The railroad company has purchased Towhead Island, and there is no purpose for which they could use it, except for placing on of the piers of the bridge on it. Engineers have been employed in the neighborhood of the newly purchased territory and there seems to be no logical conclusion other than an intention on the part of the Illinois Central to build a bridge there in due course of time.

There is a rumor in circulation to the effect that the C. E. and I. is seeking to get a right of way into Evansville and there get in connection with the Illinois Central.

The officials of the I. C. have not given out any statement as to the intention on the part of the company as to building the bridge, but the fact that the road now has a direct line to Nashville, and has purchased territory at the incline, gives rise to general belief that the company will span the broad Ohio with a new bridge.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

posed to have a living relative. William Wagner, his neighbor, produced a will dated the day before Ferguson's death. It left all his property to Wagner. Wagner's claim was contested by William Ferguson, of Seelyville, Pa., brother of the deceased. A second brother, who turned up at Alva, the Pennsylvania man denounced as an impostor. The will is now in the courts at Alva, and Wagner has brought suit in the federal court at St. Louis for the estate.

COLD WAVE COMING.

The Mercury May Drop to Freezing Point by Tomorrow.

If the weather man hits it, and he generally does, there is a cold wave coming and the mercury will drop down to freezing point. The day has been beautiful but the air cool, and the weather has been getting colder all day by degrees.

Sunday will probably dawn quite cold, but the day will be bright and bracing. How long the cold snap will stay is not stated in the weather forecast.

ONE SHOT FIRED.

But It Was Sufficient to Cause Small Panic At Hotel Craig.

The boarders at Hotel Craig at Fifth and Jefferson who happened to be in the dining room last night about 7 o'clock had a lively scare. A pistol shot rang out from the kitchen and Ed Baylock, one of the colored waiters, came tearing through the dining room. A stampede of guests occurred, because they didn't know how soon the man with the gun would appear on the scene.

Jake Hutson, colored, formerly steward at the hotel, is alleged to have fired the shot. It seems he was discharged Thursday and was around in the kitchen last night when Baylock came in for an order. A quarrel resulted in Hutson pulling a pistol and firing at the waiter. He made his escape and after the guests returned Baylock continued waiting on the table.

Money in Timber Lands.

Fortunes have been made, (and can easily be made today,) by buying Arkansas rich river bottom land, heavily covered with timber, at a nominal price, holding the land for a few years and then selling the timber at twice the price the land and timber both cost, and then have the land cleared and sell it for five times the original purchase price and sometimes ten times the cost. We have a proposition of this kind in 1600 acres of land in Arkansas at only $3.50 per acre. One-third cash, balance 1 and 2 years, at 6 per cent. This land when cleared will rent for $5.00 per acre per year. Full particulars on request. Edgar W. Whittemore Real Estate Agency, Fraternity Building. Both phones 835.

Preaches at Washington Street Church.

Rev. J. J. McCutchen, of Mayfield, will preach at the Washington street Baptist church tomorrow in place of Rev. J. W. Hawkins, colored, the regular pastor who has gone to Chicago to attend a convention.

Wedding Presents

IN the matter of gifts for a bride nothing is so important to avoid as duplication. No one wants to find that a number of other people have given the same thing.

The individuality of our gift articles is their best recommendation. We carry very few of each piece, but make a point of offering a large variety from which to choose.

As to the character of these individual pieces—it has long been recognized that at no other store are so many unusual and beautiful artistic novelties to be found, especially at this season.

PREVENT VANDALISM

By Keeping a Lookout for Marauders Tuesday Night.

Tuesday night will be Hallow e'en and it is to be hoped that there will be no such vandalism perpetrated as on last Hallow e'en night, when a great deal of property in Paducah was damaged or destroyed. All citizens should keep a lookout for culprits who take advantage of the innocent customs of Hallow e'en night to destroy property, tear down and carry away gates, break windows, and do other damage. It is said that Hallow e'en night a year ago was the worst for vandalism in the history of the city, and complaints poured into police headquarters from all sections of the city the following morning. The police will do all in their power to protect property from hoodlums, but as the city is large, the property owners will also have to keep their weather eyes open.

The Red Men had a pleasant smoker last night at their hall on North Fourth street.
